federal + state + local (county and below). Every state government has a police patrol force, a state highway service - in addition to other government functions. The State Police forces or Highway Patrols typically cover the handle major crimes. The State Highway Departments do snow plowing and road repair. The State Forest Fire in the hills between the cities and the mountains. (The forests on the mountains are typically protected by the US agency).

f "State" ambulances on 1 hand. Mass State Police has 1 - for their SWAT team I believe. There might be a couple ambulances for transporting their own patients. And maybe there are 1 or 2 State prisons with ambulances. The trucks. There are very few. Maybe some State hospitals and State prisons and State parks have some. For the most the USA is run by the local governments (counties, cities, towns, townships, villages, boroughs, community service acts, fire authorities, etc).

ambulance service to private ambulance companies. Very few areas have private fire departments that service Phoenix, Tucson, and Yuma AZ areas, Josephine County OR are served by the private Rural/Metro FD). Some receive wildfire protection from "Forest Associations" (which combine state, federal, and local moneys to hire a fires in the area - Walker Range and maybe Clearwater comes to mind). - [this paragraph added 9/2/2019]
